

My VE Day review

Gather your pens and thoughts and write your about how you celebrated VE Day. This could be as a diary entry describing your day.

VE Day is an important day in our history, so even though we can't celebrate like we normally would because we have to stay at home during the Covid-19 lockdown, it's still very important to remember the day. We may have to do things a little differently, but we hope you had a lovely time! What was your favourite part of the day?

Dear Diary

On the 8th May 2020 we celebrated the 75th Anniversary of VE Day. If you weren't sure, Victory in Europe Day (VE Day) was on the 8th May 1945 and marks the day that Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared Victory in Europe during World War II.

To celebrate this day we ...
